Take Heed Forgive and Forget

It's time to take heed and admit to our faults and turn back to Allah. We've all heard this before, 'forgive and forget' it's become clichéd, and hard to apply. Apologising in some people's eyes can be the easiest of tasks or the hardest in some cases. It takes sheer guts and determination to be the bigger person in a situation to say you're in the wrong and admit you're sorry. Haste is from the devil, so take your time before you say or do something you will later regret.

Istighfar, forgiveness is a vital remedy that all Muslims must adhere to, we must always be in a state of forgiveness, seeking refuge because without realising it but we may have committed a sin. Good things happen to good and bad people, though we shouldn't feel 'why has Allah afflicted me for..' it's not like we ask the same question when we have happiness in our life.

We should try and avoid any uncalled for behaviour, by staying in truth, and trying our best to stick to the teachings of the Quran and Sunnah.

Actions are based on intentions; you will only receive what you intend for. We should be on guard against our intentions at all times because they often change as much as the direction of the wind. When making Du'a¹ you should have belief and patience in Allah as he has said; he will either give it to you straight away, give you something better or He will make you wait to test your patience.

It is easier said than done when someone tells you to remain calm and absolute. In fact many times you will find yourself twiddling your thumbs waiting for the clock to strike 12, entering a new day, a new beginning when all the while a bead of sweat trickles down and you're expecting your Du'a to have been accepted by now.

Gold Soars Why ?

The answer will always be a stab in the dark. The preferred method among traders is to look for historical precedents – only problem is, gold has been trading at fresh records ever since it went through $850.

Instead, analysts and gold bugs have been trying to extrapolate from the $850 high touched in 1980 to the possible upside for the gold price today.

The most common calculation is to adjust the dollar gold price for US consumer price inflation. On that basis, the 1980 peak translates to somewhere between $2,400 and $2,500 an ounce – a number that many long-term gold bulls are targeting. Indeed, JPMorgan recently said gold could trade that high by the end of this year.

But why restrict yourself to CPI? Adjust by producer price inflation and gold has already come within a whisker of the all-time high: US PPI-adjusted gold record is $1,814, according to Matthew Turner at Mitsubishi.

Adjusted by average weekly wages in the US, on the other hand, the record stands at $2,383.

It is possible to come up with even more bullish numbers: adjust the 1980 peak by US GDP per capita and it translates to $3,377 an ounce, says Mr Turner. Analysts at Citigroup, adjusting by the US money supply (M2), calculate a peak of $3,800. This is more than just a mathematical game.

Some bold investors are already punting on a gold price spike to extreme levels. In the options market in New York, open interest in December 2011 calls with a strike price of $3,000 currently stands at a relatively high 14,532 contracts (equivalent to 1.4m ounces of gold). For December 2012, a few bullish souls are even betting on $5,000 gold: open interest in the $5,000 call contract stands at 189 lots (the premium is $2.40).

Are the bets reasonable? Of course, prices could spike if the global economy takes some unforeseen lurch and investors go into a true panic. Indeed, the options bets are most likely bets on this scenario.

But looking at the 1980 peak as a benchmark is perhaps misleading. That was an unsustainable spike, even within the extreme macroeconomic context of the wars, inflation and market squeezes of 1980. As Mr Turner points out, the average price in 1980 was $615 an ounce, which adjusted by CPI is equivalent to $1

PROCEDURES

First-Edge Ltd Commodities, is a United Kingdom based Trading Company who has sincere interest in purchasing Au Dore Bar and Au Gold Dust direct.

Your responsibility in shipping the FIRST run will end at UK (London) destination Heathrow International Airport.

From that point First Edge will:

Clear customs and pay 20% VAT also pay for security to Refinery and transport your Rep to Refinery/pay smelting and assay at Refinery then pay two days hotel accommodation for your Rep.

The smelting assay process will take no longer than 24 to 48 hours with payment in full to the seller for the total shipment immediately thereafter.

This in itself is of significant financial benefit to Gold Sellers when compared to the present sales structure.

By accepting this format you will benefit from rising Au Gold prices going forward.

It is important to bear in mind that you will ship each consignment on CIF basis, which in itself guarantees that ownership of the gold does not pass from Seller to Buyer until payment in full has been effected.

The Refinery is Government Certified and of excellent financial standing.

The seller is therefore encouraged to conduct a due diligence on the Refinery.

The obvious benefit of trading directly with the Refinery on clearly defined terms is to build a trading relationship based on mutual trust and integrity.

We are at your disposal should you require any further clarity that we are the only UK company that will pay for the all the transaction stated at the port of delivery.

(First Edge Ltd will not make any Advance Payment other than Full Payment after Full Assay)

This does not mean we are not prepared to negotiate any added payment cost after the gold has been assayed, but no upfront fee and no advances also no diplomat fee or financier cost or anything relating where first edge has to pay upfront fee once the gold has arrived in London and before the assay of the gold has been completed.

With best regard

The Oil reserves in Libya

Oil reserves in Libya are the largest in Africa and the ninth largest in the world with 41.5 billion barrels ($6.60 \times 10^9 \text{ m}^3$) as of 2007. Oil production was 1.8 million barrels per day ($290 \times 10^3 \text{ m}^3/\text{d}$) as of 2006, giving Libya 23 years of reserves at current production rates if no new reserves were to be found. Libya is considered a highly attractive oil area due to its low cost of oil production (as low as \$1 per barrel at some fields), and proximity to European markets. Libya would like to increase production from 1.8 Mbbbl/d ($290 \times 10^3 \text{ m}^3/\text{d}$) in 2006 to 3 Mbbbl/d ($480 \times 10^3 \text{ m}^3/\text{d}$) by 2010–13 but with existing oil fields undergoing a 7–8% decline rate, Libya's challenge is maintaining production at mature fields, while finding and developing new oil fields. Most of Libya remains unexplored as a result of past sanctions and disagreements with foreign oil companies.

Cumulative production through 2009 was 27 Gbbl. Given the stated number, this would be 65% of reserves.

The drilling of oil wells in Libya was first authorised by the Petroleum Law of 1955. The National Oil Corporation is

4 Good Reasons Why Gold Will Rise, Sooner Than Later

The big price drop Wednesday in the price of gold is not the beginning of a trend, say analysts, just a pause in a bull market that has a lot farther to run, for at least four reasons.

The price of gold fell $104, or 5.6 percent, to settle at $1,757.30 an ounce as investors took profits from recent gains and took heart from an encouraging durable good report. Others took an upbeat view of what Federal Reserve Chairman Ben Bernanke will say Friday in a key speech. The net effect was the yellow metal's biggest drop in three years.

However, professional analysts caution that the correction is only a pause and the metal's trend line is up, not down.

Indeed, Gayle Berry, analyst with Barclays Capital Research, forecasts the average price of gold this year at a lofty $1,800 per ounce with next year's average and next year to average $2,000, and Goldman Sachs expects gold's price to rise through the middle of next year.

Here are their reasons.

1. A structural shift in macroeconomic instability due to the heightened sovereign debt risks and credit downgrades, says Gayle Berry of Barclays Capital Research. Retail investors are losing faith in fiat currencies, whether it is the U.S. dollar or the euro. As a result they have piled into gold and gold-related assets. One such asset is the SPDR Gold Trust which has now become the largest of all exchange-traded funds.

"Fear and insecurity have driven the markets to take comfort in gold, driving it to a record high above $1900/oz," the analyst said in a note. "Although profit-taking, price-elastic scrap supply and seasonally soft physical demand could temper the rally in the near term, we expect prices to set new highs."

2. The sharp acceleration of broad investment demand after a mostly absent first half 2011, says Berry.

3. The return of central bank buying, from new corners and in sizeable tranches. Berry specifically cited South Korea adding 25 metric tons of gold to its reserves over June and July.

4. Current low U.S. interest rates will support high gold prices, according to Goldman Sachs. Earlier this month the investment bank issued a report saying it expects gold prices to rise through the middle of next year. While calling this year's gold price rally "impressive, this rally in gold prices is still lagging the collapse in U.S. real rates with the 10-year TIPS yield now closer to 0.30 percent, suggesting that gold

First-Edge has Chosen this to be the Deal of the Month. Deal Alert

Please contact First Edge If You think your deal should be deal of the month (info@first-edge.co.uk)

This is an invitation to have your buyer or mandate talk with the seller mandate. Immediately below are the required procedures to have your buyer or mandate speak with the seller mandate.

Great Pricing, Reasonable Procedures, CIF & FOB, Attractive Commissions and most importantly they are reliable. They do not ask the buyer for any fees or upfront money for anything! There are no advance, registration, notarization, legalization, transportation, pipeline or environmental fees. Once the buyer qualifies and shows that they have the financial capability to pay for the fuel once it is delivered, the seller places the order with the refineries, takes title and pays for the fuel with their own money. The irrevocable, confirmed, auto revolving Letter of Credit or BG payable 100% at sight against shipping documents is used to pay for each monthly shipment and is the key to dealing with this seller. This Seller will not provide their information until they know that the buyer is serious and financially capable. Once the buyer provides his LOI agreeing to the seller's terms and conditions the buyer and or his mandate can have a call with the seller mandate if they request it. After the call the buyer will need to proceed to step #1 in the procedures. The name of the seller will be given to the buyer during the call for him to place on the ICPO. Only the buyer and or his mandate will be allowed on the call and Ralph will initiate the call and keep the lead intermediary informed of how things are proceeding. After the call, the required documents will need to be sent to Ralph to check for completeness and correctness prior to being sent to the seller mandate. Please assist, me in streamlining this by sending your Buyers LOI in the format provided. Any changes to this will not be acceptable and will only waste everybody's time!

Shown below in Bold/Black is some more information from this seller, which may be helpful to you. We have ATTACHED the needed intermediary NCNDA LOI, ICPO, NCNDA-IMFPA templates to be used. We have further clarified the following items below;

- 1. Procedure: Buyer sends LOI. Buyer can have call with Seller mandate after Ralph approves the LOI. If any additional information is needed for Ralph to submit LOI he will request it directly from the Buyer. Ralph will require a signed NCNDA with all intermediaries and will require one of the intermediaries to be nominated as lead intermediary with whom he will communicate with. This is a separate NCNDA than the NCNDA-IMFPA. Both are attached.
- 2. Buyer issues BCL and ICPO using supplied template. Along with the BCL & ICPO Ralph needs, the completed NCNDA-IMFPA with Buyer, Buyer Mandate, and lead intermediary information completed and signed. Once all paperwork is complete, Ralph will submit to seller mandate.
- 3. Seller issues official FCO. From this point forward the buyer and seller will be in direct contact.
- 4. Commissions: With this seller the entire Buy side is open. Commissions will be paid by the buyer to the buy side as follows; Shown is the split on $10 and $5 fuels, the % always remains the same.

BOB'S FUNERAL.

Bob works hard at the office but spends two nights each week bowling, and plays golf every Saturday.

His wife thinks he's pushing himself too hard, so for his birthday she takes him to a local strip club.

The doorman at the club greets them and says, 'Hey, Bob! How ya doin?'

His wife is puzzled and asks if he's been to this club before.

'Oh no,' says Bob. 'He's in my bowling league.'

When they are seated, a waitress asks Bob if he'd like his usual and brings over a Budweiser.

His wife is becoming increasingly uncomfortable and says, 'How did she know that you drink Budweiser?'

'I recognize her, she's the waitress from the golf club.'

I always have a Bud at the end of the 1st nine, honey.'

A stripper then comes over to their table, throws her arms around Bob, starts to rub herself all over him and says,

'Hi Bobby. Want your usual table dance, big boy?'

Bob's wife, now furious, grabs her purse and storms out of the club.

Bob follows and spots her getting into a cab.

Before she can slam the door, he jumps in beside her.

Bob tries desperately to explain how the stripper must have mistaken him for someone else, but his wife is having none of it.

She is screaming at him at the top of her lungs, calling him every 4 letter word in the book..

The cabby turns around and says,
'Geez Bob, you picked up a real bitch this time.'

BOB'S FUNERAL WILL BE HELD THIS COMING FRIDAY.
